THE HYLANDER STAFF

APPRECIATES THESE SUPPORTERS

Through the leaves and stones,
Through the echoes of voices past
Comes a time when all are free.
Black and white; all belong.
The bitter past is blotted out; forgotten.
The times of sorrow, hatred, and hunger
Seem to have been only a dream,
And the people in it from a different world.

Hope shines like a bright new sun
On enthusiastic faces,
And people sing the song of their new strength.
The cobwebs are brushed from unused minds,
And reasons is again established.
Brotherhood is rediscovered,
Where man is his brother's keeper.
True peace reigns over all,
And weapons are a thing of the past.
People become human beings; compassionate and caring.
Slowly, but surely, love seeps back into the world;
And once again,
God will bless America.
This wonderful time; this remarkable
New Peace in which we live
Is not some far-fetched Utopia,
But merely the way God planned the world to be,
Until people came along.
This time span, stretching before us
Into unknown limits, is our future.
Will we?
